Welcome To Beautiful Colorado

Since 1997 the IACN has been leading the way in evidence informed chiropractic neurology. As a member, you know that and you know members as your colleagues and friends. This year the 2019 IACN symposium will focus on the clinical application of Musculoskeletal Ultrasound, along with moderated case presentations and other relevant clinical presentations. Please do everything that you can to attend this year! While almost any amount of “information” can be found online there is no replacement for live presentations and face to face conversation and debate with your peers when it comes to specific, real clinical scenarios. The IACN Annual Symposium is designed to be the best place on earth to do just that.

In 2017 the membership was polled about an alternative location, and Denver, CO came up as the number one choice. So, the IACN is holding the 2019 Symposium in Denver.

Special Guest Luncheon Speaker:

William E. Morgan, DC - President Parker University

White House and Congressional Consultant and Clinician, 2000-2016

Department of Defense Consultant and Chiropractor, 1998-2016

The term functional neurology has been maligned by certain practitioners who have made eccentric claims based on weak evidence. This has impeded our quest for relevance. We are still in the early stages of the neuroplasticity revolution, and if we are to be taken seriously in the future, we must be worthy of the charge society has entrusted us. We must be the reliable, trusted source of knowledge, research, and clinical acumen.

Dr. William Morgan will be sharing his vision and commitment to the field of neurology. Parker University is engaging in a bold agenda of research, clinical application, and education in regard to chiropractic neurology. Sharing his aggressive five-year strategic plan for creating two Masters Degrees in neuroscience, the construction of a prototype neuroscience clinic (both of these milestones are already complete), and climaxing with the construction of a world-class Neuroscience Center of Excellence, Dr. Morgan will reveal his vision for the bright future of chiropractic neuroscience.
